

My name is Mike Reed and I love baseball! Over the years, I have had the opportunity to play a whole lot of baseball. In my opinion, my past baseball experiences were the ultimate contributor for many of my successes in life. Baseball taught me how to be a team player, how to rise up from adversity, to work even harder in the face of a challenge, how to communicate efficiently, and what it takes to be mentally prepared for life's challenges. I would like the opportunity to work with local kids who want to become better pitchers and/or hitters, and help them achieve both physical and mental confidence and success.

Personal history and experience:

Fort Collins, Colorado youth baseball coach (4 seasons)
San Jose, California semi-pro league, post college (2 yrs)
California State University, Chico baseball club (2 yrs)
University of Nevada, Reno baseball club, pitching scholarship (2 yr)
College summer leagues, Kansas City, Missouri (2 yrs)
College summer leagues, Reno, Nevada (2 yrs)
Quincy High School, varsity team (4 yrs)
Little League – Babe Ruth (10 yrs)

My goal is to assist kids in reaching their potential while being both physically and mentally prepared to handle their success. It is critical to properly manage the challenges top level play demands on these players, while minimizing their risk of injury and burn out. Baseball is a game intended to be enjoyed by those who watch it, and loved by those who play it. My ultimate goal is to teach these kids to love the game while the intensity and competition increase. Through proper mechanics (form, timing and technique) and practice, every player can achieve personal success!
